One of the best-preserved city centres in the world – the Old Town of Graz
Unesco World Cultural Heritage since 1999.
WHY A BRIEF FLIRTATION WITH GRAZ CAN EASILY TURN INTO A LONG-TERM RELATIONSHIP.

Only got a couple of days to spare, but still looking to live life to the full? Then a trip to Graz is just the thing. No other city offers so much variety packed into such a small space, together with that touch of sunny southern flair: futuristic architecture alongside medieval houses, alleys and squares; exclusive boutiques overlooking colourful farmers’ markets, cultural and culinary treats on every corner – and all within a few paces of each other. But be warned: a brief flirtation with Graz can easily turn into a long-term relationship. Once you’ve fallen for the European Cultural Capital 2003, you’ll want to come back again – and again. Even if it’s only for another short – but intense – visit.

1. Kunsthaus Graz – the “friendly alien” designed by Peter Cook and Colin Fournier, opened in 2003, Graz’s year as Cultural Capital.
2. Ancient cobbled streets such as Sporgasse provide both a visual and gastronomic feast.
3. Specialties from the region – a typical Styrian farmers’ market, right in the middle of the Old Town.

To wander through Graz is to travel back through the ages – each century more beautiful than the one before.
Enjoy losing yourself in the city without losing your way: a simple stroll is full of surprises. In the Old Town, a new discovery awaits around every corner: hidden alleys, romantic inner courtyards, ornate façades and magnificent buildings. This “best preserved city centre in Central Europe” is designated a world cultural heritage site by UNESCO, and with good reason: Renaissance, Gothic and Baroque architecture sit side-by-side, while just three minutes’ walk away lies the future: the enigmatic “friendly alien” Kunsthaus has made itself at home, nestled between the ancient houses. Local people love the unique beauty of this beast, and already see it as the city’s second landmark.

1. View over the domes of Graz Cathedral and the tiled roofs of the Old Town.
2. The magnificent Landhaus courtyard with its Renaissance arcades.
3. Spot the faces hidden in the painted façade of the “Gemaltes Haus”.
4. The Mausoleum, last resting place of Kaiser Ferdinand II.
5. The perfect island to wash up on: the Murinsel, designed by Vito Acconci.
Graz gastronomy has a special focus on regional produce – recently winning the city the title of “Austrian Capital of Delight”.
CAPITAL OF CULTURE –
AND NOW CAPITAL OF DELIGHT TOO?

Graz is now the official “Austrian Capital of Delight”. A title awarded to reflect the fact that Graz restaurateurs are excellent hosts, that they focus on regional produce and, last but not least, that Graz has 800(!) city farmers, more than any other Austrian community, and the highest concentration of market days in the whole of Europe! Here in Graz it is the farmers themselves, and not market traders, who sell their delicious specialities. Particular highlights are the Gourmet Travel Festival, when the best and most creative chefs in the world gather in Graz, the gastronomic guided tours (p.25) and outings to the Regions of Delight (p. 27).

As “Capital of Delight” partners, a number of inns and restaurants in Graz focus particularly on regional cuisine. For a list of these partners see page 23.

1. Local produce prepared freshly and above all with love. Just taste the difference!

2. Bottles don’t stay unopened for long. The wine is just too delicious.

3. Looks wonderful, tastes wonderful: Styrian cream of pumpkin soup with a drizzle of pumpkin-seed oil.
The view from the Graz Schlossberg over the tiled roofs of the city is breathtaking.
Sooner or later you’ll end up here, on the wooded hill right in the middle of the Old Town, and you won’t be able to get enough of the view: looking down from the Graz Schlossberg onto the brick-red roofs of the city, it’s an indescribable feeling. New lovers, however, are usually less interested than most – and this has always been Graz’s favourite spot for romance. It’s still well worth taking a look around: the clock tower alone is a fascinating curiosity. The small and big hands are the wrong way round, causing some visitors to check their watches in confusion. Anecdote has it that when Napoleon wanted to blow up the clock tower, the people of Graz simply bought it back from him … Their vision ensured that one of the finest views in Graz remains today – not to mention the wide range of gastronomy to be found up here.

1. One of the most romantic spots on the Schlossberg: the Starcke-Haus restaurant.

2./4. The restaurants on the Schlossberg are a favourite haunt for locals.

3. The Schlossbergbahn funicular railway: one of three ways to get to the top. Equally spectacular is the glass lift inside the hill.

MILLIONS OF FIRST KISSES HAVE HAPPENED HERE. ALTHOUGH THE VIEW CAN BE QUITE DISTRACTING.
MUMUTH – The house of music and music drama at the University of Music and Performing Arts. Just one of many examples of exciting architecture in Graz.
DON’T GO LOOKING FOR CULTURE.
IT WILL FIND YOU.

You’ve just emerged from looking at ancient knights’ armour in the Zeughaus, and now suddenly you’ve come across a kind of spaceship, a couple of hundred metres up the street. Don’t panic: the “friendly alien” Kunsthaus is not a UFO; it’s Graz’s international modern art gallery. Graz holds a stunning variety of museums, galleries, exhibitions, architecture and design. Even the main railway station has become part of the cultural landscape here: vivid colours and bold textures create a fascinating space of illusion. It was this diversity and visionary impulse that were crucial factors in making Graz the Cultural Capital of Europe in 2003.

1. Kunsthaus Graz – leading address for exciting contemporary art.

2. The Graz Armoury houses the world’s largest historically evolved collection of weapons.

3. Transformed from a place of transit to a space of magic: the lobby at Graz Railway Station designed by Peter Kogler.
Tempted to give your credit card a workout?
Why not: you’ll find exclusive designer labels just waiting to seduce you.
HIGH FASHION AND PUMPKIN SEED OIL: A SECRET LIAISON.

Somewhere in the depths of your shopping bag, a new designer handbag nests up to a bottle of pumpkin-seed oil. Wherever else would you find such a huge range of great buys? Seasoned Graz shoppers wryly call it “Shopping with culture”: exclusive designer labels in the boutiques around Herrengasse, antiques on the “Art Mile” in Sackstrasse, or the cool, wacky stores run by the young creative set down Mariahilferstrasse – all year round Graz is an attraction for creative and arty people of all kinds. Or enjoy the surprise of spontaneously tasting samples at the farmers’ markets, such as a “Stamperl” (glass) of homemade schnaps or a slice of tasty “Schmalzbrot”.

1. Graz is famous for shoes, fashion and top design.

3. Sackstrasse: the antique and art mile of Graz (and while you’re there, take a look at the wonderful courtyards of house numbers 9, 11 and 14).

4. Your invitation to shop: modern design and beautiful home accessories.
A romantic weekend? Graz offers the perfect backdrop for unforgettable moments.
THE CITY COMES TO LIFE:
GRAZ BY NIGHT.

It would be such a shame not to try at least a taste of Graz nightlife. Because at night the city really comes alive – kept young, lively and optimistic by its 40,000 students at four universities and two technical colleges. Graz: the city is a stage, a scene, a backdrop, a programme of events! Whether at the classics of Graz nightlife, or the young new pubs that are constantly arriving on the scene in the streets around the university or on the right bank of the Mur. In the bars and pubs surrounding the Kunsthaus you’ll get great drinks served with a slice of artistic flair.

1. An evening stroll on the Schlossberg, with a view to remember.
2. From bar to bar by foot – so much to choose from, and all just a short step away.
3. Open-air cultural events, high above the city: the Kasematten stage.
4. Steeped in tradition – Karl-Franzens University is the second oldest university in Austria.
Discovering Graz by bike is a lot of fun. Bicycles can be rented from several central points in the city.
Graz has long been known as the bicycle-friendliest city in Austria – locals discovered early on that the quickest and greenest way to get around is on two wheels. So it’s no coincidence that Graz is home to some of the world’s technology and market leaders in biomass, solar thermal energy, water technology and waste recycling. Graz is also the highlight of the 360km-long Mur bicycle path from Lungau to Bad Radkersburg. Nearby lie south and west Styria, Regions of Delight and perfect destinations for relaxed excursions by bike. Mountain bikers, on the other hand, will love the fast trails surrounding Graz, which have become an Eldorado for the sportier side of cycling.
From the historic city centre to a natural idyll it’s just a few minutes’ drive. Don’t miss the beautiful surroundings of Graz – they’re more than worth a visit.
AND THERE'S MORE …
UNMISSABLE SIGHTS AROUND GRAZ.

… and you thought you'd already seen all there was to see? Then just take a look at what there is right on Graz's doorstep: for example the nearby Bärenschützklamm, a spectacular rocky ravine with 24 thundering waterfalls. It once provided shelter to bears: nowadays it is photographers who gather here. Close by, the Lurgrotte caves at Peggau are a natural spectacle in a class of their own: special lighting effects make the huge stalactites and stalagmites appear even stranger. And if you thought culture was only to be found in town, you should take a look at Stubing's Austrian Open Air Museum and its 90 lovingly restored historic farmhouses. Or else the Jakobuskirche in Thal, an exquisite church designed by painter Prof. Ernst Fuchs. You can even pay a visit to the oldest Cistercian monastery in the world, Stift Rein, whose doors are open to the public.

WWW.REGIONGRAZ.AT

1. Discover what life was like on a traditional Austrian farm: the Open Air Museum in Stübing.
2. How about a little stroll? The area surrounding Graz is full of adventure.
3. A warm welcome is to be found within the venerable walls of the Stift Rein monastery.
4. Try your hand at exploring caves: Lurgrotte is just 15km away and an unforgettable experience.
Vineyards as far as the eye can see.
And never far from a Buschenschank.
THE VERY SAME WINE YOU’VE
JUST TASTED IN GRAZ...

Just half an hour’s drive away lie the rolling hills of the south Styrian wine-growing region, home to world-class vintages and rich in tradition. Enjoy both in one of the many “Buschenschänke” to be found here, rustic restaurants producing their own wines and food – such as the typical “Brettljause”, a wooden platter of assorted hams, pâtes and salami. If you find yourself in west Styria then you should definitely try a glass of “schilcher”, the famous dry rosé produced only in this area, and much loved by connoisseurs. Another famous regional product of quite a different kind are the Lipizzaner horses of the Vienna Court Riding School, which are reared in Styria and return here to rest at the end of their careers. The ancient castles of the region, on the other hand, are not the place for peace and quiet. Schloss Herberstein is home to a wildlife park, while above the towering fortress at Riegersburg falcons circle: tame, but no less impressive for it.

KUNSTHAUS GRAZ

Since autumn 2003, the Kunsthaus in Graz has been staging temporary exhibitions of national and international art from the 60s through to the present day.

Tatiana Trouvé
Il Grande Ritratto
6th February – 16th May 2010
Tatiana Trouvé creates worlds which function without language. Cast in architecture that reflects the echo of the artist and in which can exist emptiness surrounded by parapraxes, secrets and hidden messages, there emerge structures full of doubt, expectations and fantasies.

Human Condition
12th June – 12th September 2010
Human Condition examines rites of passage that are determined by social, political and cultural developments in various societies in the new millennium. The complexity of the current situation, where the precariat and the fragility of global economic systems and political orders occupy the foreground, calls for a close assessment of contemporary mechanisms of social movements and work structures, of the distribution of power and the ethics of judgment.

Robot Dreams
16th October 2010 – 9th January 2011
The Robot Dreams exhibition is planned as a co-production with the Jean Tinguely Museum in Basel and ventures into the realm of artificial intelligence and its definition. It explores the political, social and artistic implications of new mind games around these former slaves of man, and invites artists to develop special projects on the subject.

STYRIARTE 2010
„Heimat, bist du“
25th June to 25th July 2010

When a country celebrates itself in an official anthem as having a “Volk, begnadet für das Schöne”, or “people blessed with a sense of beauty”, then there must surely exist a special relationship between its people and art. The styriarte 2010 festival picks up on this and explores the theme of Austria and homeland in music, taking a line from the same anthem as its slogan.
